

SANTISIMA TRINIDAD 3YO

The name of the rum comes from the Spanish Navy sailing ship "Santisima Trinidad", which for years was considered the world's tallest ship. Launched in 1769, this launch caused terror among British and transport organizations. To this day, in Spanish-speaking culture, it is a symbol of greatness and the fight for one's faith and culture.

Santísima Trinidad is made with aguardiente liqueur, like all Cuban rums. It gives the rum a more nuanced character than ten from anywhere else in the world. However, our aguardiente is of exceptional quality. It comes from selected molasses and undergoes a long aging and ripening process. Time gives the rum more delicate and delicate flavors. we say that Santísima Trinidad is the first liquid Cuban rum.

Created through a two-stage aging process, both in American white oak barrels. In the first stage, aguardiente liqueur is aged for a year and a half. In the second stage, the base rums are aged for 1 to 6 years until the desired flavor and aroma profile is achieved.

In the first stage, the aguardiente liqueur is aged for at least 4 years before being blended. In the second stage, these base rums, are aged in our cellars for 3, 7, 15 or 25 years to achieve the desired flavor and aroma. This new, very mature rum is stored continuously in the same barrels. To achieve a fullness and depth of rum with a rounded finish, the rums go into a third barrel where they achieve the final blend.
